Work Based Continuous Professional Development

This module is designed to facilitate M level learning in the workplace. It enables you to identity an aspect of learning pertinent to your professional development within their your professional role; and to plan and carry out independent study of that learning with subsequent evaluation of its effectiveness. The area of practice development will be decided through negotiation with the academic tutor.

Examples may include:

- management of a unique or different client/service user caseload
- developing new service provision or change of role within a current service provision
- participation in an established or setting up a new in service education programme
- support and mentoring of more junior staff or students

This module can lead to ACE Chartered Society of Physiotherapy accreditation, in which case the learning should include mentorship of undergraduate and/or pre registration PG students.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the module you should be able to:

- Identify and justify an aspect of learning pertinent to your professional development in your current role
- Critically analyse the range of opportunities available for furthering identified learning
- Plan, carry out and justify an action plan capable of achieving identified learning including production of supportable learning outcomes
- Critically evaluate effectiveness of the identified action plan in achieving the derived learning outcomes
- Critically evaluate the contribution of new learning to current role development
- Critically evaluate revealed learning needs arising from this planned activity
