Study in Singapore with Birmingham Business School

A number of Birmingham Business School programmes are available in Singapore, delivered in conjunction with our partners, the Singapore Institute of Management (SIM) (http://www.sim.edu.sg/) .

The Business School has been delivering business education in Singapore since 1994, when its MBA programme was originally launched, and further extended these activities in Singapore with undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

The programmes use fundamentally the same syllabus as taught on the UK equivalent and the same team of Business School academic staff travels to Singapore in order to deliver all of the modules.
