Richard Goode has been hailed for music-making of tremendous emotional power, depth and expressiveness, and acknowledged world-wide as one of today's leading interpreters of Classical and Romantic music. In regular performances with major orchestras, recitals in the world's music capitals, and acclaimed recordings, he has won a large and devoted following. His performances consistently receive the highest praise; the New York Times reflects the widespread feeling that 'it is virtually impossible to walk away from one of Mr Goode's recitals without the sense of having gained some new insight, subtly or otherwise, into the works he played or about pianism itself'.
