MEd in Teaching Studies

The MEd in Teaching Studies is targeted to student teachers who have completed a PGCE/PGDipEd with 120 credits at Masters level at the University of Birmingham.

Adobe Flash Player or QuickTime is required for video playback. Get the latest Flash Player Get the latest version of QuickTime

Micha Georgi

Chris Unwin

Three of our MEd in Teaching Studies graduates talk about their experiences of the course.

Jack Swanston

Once you have passed their your teacher education course and successfully passed your induction year, you may apply to study for a Masters in Teaching Studies. You will need a satisfactory reference from your university tutor in order to apply and pay the tuition fee which will be £1,980 for Home/EU and £4,555 for Overseas (2014-2015).

This is an opportunity to further develop your understanding of educational issues based on practical experience, and can significantly enhance your career prospects as well as support your professional development.

Students will gain 60 credits at masters level through the completion of a 15,000 word dissertation. You will be given support and guidance, including three face-to-face Saturday morning sessions at the University in the autumn term to learn how to carry out a research project, and you will be allocated a personal tutor to help you complete your dissertation over the academic year.

For more details please contact:

Denise Wilson, Programme Administrator
Telephone +44 (0) 121 414 8167
Email d.m.wilson@bham.ac.uk (mailto:d.m.wilson@bham.ac.uk)

© University of Birmingham 2014