Professor Karen Morrison (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=8211)

Bloomer Professor of Neurology

Neurobiology

Karen Morrison is Bloomer Professor of Neurology and combines basic and clinical research with teaching and clinical neurology.

She leads a laboratory group investigating molecular genetic mechanisms in the neurodegenerative disorders of motor neurone disease, MND, and Parkinson's disease. A key role has been in establishing very large DNA banks from patients with ...

Professor Ferenc Mueller (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=8514)

Professor in Developmental Genetics

Reproduction, Genes and Development

Dr Ferenc Mueller leads a research group in the Centre for Rare Diseases and Personalised Medicine. His group studies transcription regulation in embryo development. Their research projects include the function of promoter recognition proteins in regulating differential gene expression during vertebrate embryo development and comparative/functional genomic analysis of cis-regulatory ...

Dr Jonathan Wolf Mueller (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=64165)

Senior Research Fellow

Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism

Jonathan Mueller is a Senior Research Fellow at the Centre for Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism at the University of Birmingham. Jon is a protein biochemist by training who now applies his profound knowledge in the context of endocrinology.

Being an enthusiastic scientist, Jon has authored more than 15 research papers and received various fellowships (e.g. EMBO ...

Dr Zsuzsanna Nagy (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=8252)

Senior Lecturer and Lead of the Neurodegeneration and Repair team

Neurobiology

Zsuzsanna Nagy is a Senior Lecturer and the lead of the Neurodegeneration and Repair team.

Zsuzsanna has published over 50 research papers in scientific journals as well as reviews and book chapters in the fields of Alzheimer's disease and related neurodegenerative diseases. Her grant income is partly from charitable organisations partly from ...

Professor Gerard Nash (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=75369)

Professor of Cardiovascular Rheology and Head of School of Clinical and Experimental Medicine

Cardiovascular and Respiratory Sciences

Gerard Nash originally trained as a physical scientist and is interested in understanding the processes of cell adhesion and migration, and the effects of blood flow on these processes, by application of well-defined, quantitative, in vitro models.

Gerard has published over 200 research papers in scientific journals as well as reviews and book chapters in the fields of ...

Dr Michael O'Reilly (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=45435)

Wellcome Trust Clinical Research Fellow
Honorary Specialist Registrar in Endocrinology

Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism

Dr. Michael O'Reilly is a Wellcome Trust-funded clinical research fellow in CEDAM in the Institute of Biomedical Research. He is also an honorary specialist registar in endocrinology in the Queen Elizabeth and Birmingham Women's Hospitals. Michael is currently undertaking a PhD in the tissue-specific mechanisms linking insulin resistance and androgen excess in polycystic ovary ...

Dr Hardev Pall (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=8821)

Senior Lecturer in Neurology

Neurobiology

Dr Pall is a clinical neurologist with an interest in teaching and research. His principal areas of clinical interest are movement disorders and motor neurone disease. The movement disorder patients that he looks after include those with Parkinson's disease and dystonia.

Dr Davor Pavlovic (/schools/cem/staff/profile.aspx?ReferenceId=94835)

Lecturer in Cardiovascular Sciences

Cardiovascular and Respiratory Sciences

Davor has recently joined University of Birmingham as a Lecturer in Cardiovascular Sciences within the School of Clinical and Experimental Medicine.

His primary research interest is to understand molecular mechanisms of ion transport in the heart and how these may be targeted to treat cardiovascular disease. Davor has published a number of research papers and review ...
