

ISSUE THREE

Welcome to Old JoE USA. In this edition you can find out about alumni and student activities taking place across the US and how you can get involved, read an interview with an alumna at the World Bank and find out about the work of the Shakespeare Institute.

USA Alumni Society

Student Spotlight

Spring Update

The USA Alumni Society are starting 2016 with a variety of events and activities across the States this spring. With the University's first Global Alumni Gathering happening in April, there is a lot to get involved with.

READ MORE >

Alumni Spotlight

Since completing her BA International Studies with Political Science in 2006, Eleni Papakosta has lived in Washington DC working in international development at the World Bank, promoting education in Africa.

North American Cultural Society

The North American Cultural Society (NACS), for students on the American and Canadian Studies course, hold a variety of events throughout the year. A number of the society members will be travelling to the US in summer to start their one year placements at a University in North America and would like your advice.

READ MORE >

The Other Place Reopens

The iconic studio theatre, The Other Place, in Stratford-upon-Avon has reopened after undergoing a transformation partly funded by the University of Birmingham, in a five-year partnership with the Royal Shakespeare Company.

READ MORE >

READ MORE >

Did you know?

Graduates from the University of Birmingham are among the most likely in the UK to become successful business leaders? Read more

Remember to like us on Facebook to keep up to date with upcoming events.

You have received this email from the University of Birmingham because we believe that it is relevant and of interest to you. If you would like to opt out of receiving further University news via email, please visit your.bham email or telephone +44 \(0\)121 414 2773. In order to further tailor the communication we send, all emails are tracked and processed; further information regarding our use of data, is available by looking at our data protection statement.