About

Dr. Shelley Budgeon is a Senior Lecturer in Sociology who specializes in gender and feminist theory. Her research concentrates on how various forces of social change impact on the constitution of gender relations and processes of gender identification. Contemporary gender equality discourses and their specific manifestation in 'modernized' state sanctioned approaches to gender issues provide the focus for her current research. Her books include Third Wave Feminism and the Politics of Gender in Late Modernity (Palgrave, 2011) and Choosing a Self: Young Women and the Individualization of Identity (Praegar, 2003). She has co-edited a special issue of Current Sociology on "Cultures of Intimacy and Care Beyond 'The Family' and has published in a wide range of journals including Sociology, "The Dynamics of Gender Hegemony: Femininities, Masculinities and Social Change" (2013), Sexualities, Body & Society, European Journal of Women's Studies, Sociological Research Online, and Women's Studies International Forum. She has been a visiting scholar at the University of British Columbia Institute for Gender, 'Race', Sexuality and Social Justice and at the Monash University Centre for Women's Studies and Gender Research.
