The Power of Talent

China wants your lunch and India wants your dinner.

Fixing Britain to thrive in the global economy - the Annual Business Breakfast with Lord Digby Jones

About Digby

Lord Jones served as Minister of State for UK Trade & Investment 2007-8 and was formerly Director General of the CBI from 2000-6.

As UK Skills Envoy during 2006-7 he championed for both private and public sector employers to raise the level of skills amongst their employees.

Since his return to the private sector in 2008, Lord Jones continues as an active cross-bencher in the House of Lords and now serves as Chairman on the International Business Advisory Boards at HSBC and British Airways. He chairs Triumph Motorcycles and holds a number of Board Advisory roles with major UK companies. He is also a UK Business Ambassador and launched his first book, "Fixing Britain- the business of reshaping our nation", in April 2011.

Lord Jones has served at the highest levels of both business and government and in this event he shares his experience and (often forthright) opinions about what British business needs to do to thrive in an increasingly global economy.

Knowledgeable, authoritative and independent, Digby argues how untenable the status quo is in the UK, and sets out how Britain can get back in – and stay in – the globalised game.

In a long standing relationship with Lord Jones, Harvey Nash is delighted to be championing The Power of Talent as a key competitive advantage for UK businesses.

We look forward to welcoming you to this exciting event.
