at the heart
of the city's research base

Established in 1986, Birmingham Research Park has an enviable location in Edgbaston approximately two miles from the centre of Birmingham and adjacent to the University of Birmingham's main campus and the new Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

The Research Park also benefits from being just two minutes walk away from a regular train and bus service taking you right to the city centre.

This unique position makes the Research Park the best location in Birmingham for young 'high growth' companies that need access to both the best research minds and the biggest markets in this part of the UK.

The principal aim of the Research Park is to provide the right resources and environment for your company to flourish. Tenants have built successful businesses based upon the University's own reputation in biotechnology, computer systems, medical diagnostics and scientific instruments.

to grow

The Research Park provides secure high quality office space on competitive and flexible terms. Space ranges from small, one man offices, up to 5,000 sq ft in a single block for larger businesses. Alternatively, if you're not yet ready to move into office premises, please ask about our virtual office services.

With 24 hour access, ample car parking, CCTV, reception services, meeting and conference facilities the Research Park will provide the solution to all your business needs.

made easy

When you need to impress clients, hold large meetings or small conferences, then the Research Park can help. There are a range of rooms to accommodate small meetings of up to six people, through to larger boardroom style meeting facilities which accommodate up to 30 people and a larger conference room which has a capacity for 60.

In addition, tenants further benefit from access to the University of Birmingham's extensive conference facilities.

be part of a vibrant community

At Birmingham Research Park you will be integrated within a vibrant and diverse network of businesses, researchers and the wider University of Birmingham research community.

In addition to the Research Park facilities, tenants benefit from access to the University of Birmingham's outstanding campus and key facilities, including a range of shops, a sports complex, libraries, arts facilities, restaurants and access to open events.

For those in the medical field, you are located at the hub of research activity. The Queen Elizabeth Hospital and the University of Birmingham's College of Medical and Dental Science are adjacent to the Park, giving you access to key people, markets for your products or services, public events and networking opportunities. This site is at the heart of one of the most significant opportunities for public and private investment around the medical and healthcare sector outside London.

The Research Park also holds a series of networking events and meetings throughout the year, providing you with access to key influencers from across the region.

helping you to flourish

A wide range of business support is available to companies at the Research Park. We can connect you with professionals who can advise you on intellectual property issues, patent applications and access to finance.

We can also sign-post businesses to other support agencies and the local authority to access a variety of funded support. Advice on how to access collaborative funding with our academic community, particularly in areas such as European funding and funding from UK Research Councils, is also available.
