

English support for current students

Once you are enrolled on your undergraduate or postgraduate academic programme at the University of Birmingham, you can attend our free open access English classes, self-assess your academic English, book individual language tutorials, get answers to your language queries, and download self-study materials.

 Dorota Pacek, Director of the English for International Students Unit "Effective communication in English is the key to academic success."

What do international students say about EISU English support?

 International student "I did the EISU self-assessment test and then attended some of the drop-in English support classes, that my test results suggested I should do, in my lunchtimes. By doing the online test I chose the classes most suitable for me. EISU also helped me later in the year when I booked a one-to-one session and an EISU teacher gave me individual help for 30 minutes."

Further information

Find out more about the support we offer to current students \(http://www.intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/eisu/insessional/index.aspx\).