

Charles Wallace India Trust

Applications now closed

The deadline for application to the Charles Wallace India Trust has now passed.

What do we offer?

Are you an artist, an actor or director, a dancer, or perhaps a writer of novels or poetry? Do you conserve old buildings or materials? Are you an historian or student of literature?

If so, the Charles Wallace India Trust (CWIT) could help you to develop your talents, expand your horizons and introduce you to new international contacts.

For nearly thirty years CWIT has offered scholarships and grants for Indians working in these fields to spend time in the UK.

Why not think about joining more than 2500 people who have benefited from them?
