Pre-1997 Students

Unfortunately, we cannot guarantee that a full transcript can be produced for students who commenced their studies before 1997. We suggest that these students check the availability of their transcript before they place their order with the Online Shop.

- Transcript checking service \(to https://universityofbirmingham.service-now.com/kb_view.do?sysparm_article=KB11020\)

In most cases results are stored indefinitely and a transcript or partial transcript can be produced when requested. If we are unable to produce a detailed academic transcript for you we will be able to produce a document confirming your studies at the University.

Important notice for PGCE students who started their studies before September 2003

We are unable to produce a transcript for students who started their PGCE before September 2003 as detailed module information was not available at this time.

We can produce an official statement confirming successful completion of the programme, but this will not include individual mark information.
