

Activities

Since the establishment of the Centre in September 2011, a number of joint research projects have been launched, in partnership with local hospitals, higher education and research institutes. These research projects are in the areas of:

- public health
- service industry research
- environmental science
- medicine

Additionally, other projects are being developed in the pipeline in areas of:

- advanced engineering
- material science
- railway technologies
- energy
- information technologies

The main themes of work to be addressed by the Centre include:

- Research Collaboration
- Education collaboration
- Knowledge and technology transfer
- Marketing
- Continued Professional Development and capacity building
- Alumni relations
- Media activities