This free event aims to explore the needs of both industry and those seeking employment.

The conference will explore how learners can be nurtured through education and employment and how this can sustain business growth within the region.

Who should attend?

- Employers
- Business entrepreneurs
- Careers advisors
- Regional employability networks and agencies
- Higher and further education providers

The event will showcase the diversity of practice and engagement between higher education institutes, students, graduates and employers in the region in order to provide the first "National Employability and Enterprise Conference."
