

A must see event as arch rivals battle it out!

Posted on Thursday 12th October 2006

Saturday 14th October sees University Sport Birmingham host their first Big Event of the academic year when the Rugby 1st fifteen clash with the 'old enemy' Loughborough University.

With Loughborough top of the BUSA league and Birmingham third, the two Universities have been at loggerheads for some time, and any game between them is always met with anticipation and a great turn out from vocal supporters.

The arch rivals will meet at the Bournbrook Pitches at 1800 where there will be music, food, a beer tent and what is sure to be a top class, full contact, nail biting rugby battle.

All are greatly encouraged to come along, bring their friends and show support for The University of Birmingham team.
