

New funding scheme to support SME's

Posted on Friday 8th April 2011

The UK's Technology Strategy Board launched a new scheme on 4th April offering funding for small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) to engage in research and development projects in the strategically important areas of science, engineering and technology.

For further details and information on the application process please visit Innovation UK. (<http://www.innovateuk.org/deliveringinnovation/grant-for-research-and-development.ashx#proof%20of%20concept>)

If you would like to find out about how your business could collaborate with the University of Birmingham please call Kate Jermey on 0121 4143 898 or email businessteam@bham.ac.uk (<mailto:businessteam@bham.ac.uk>).