

MBA (full-time)

The Birmingham MBA re-enters the Financial Times global 100

FT
The MBA for those looking to progress their international career

Choosing our MBA in International Business will develop your ability to perform at the highest level in international business. We will place you on four distinctive and challenging enterprise projects, where you will work closely with businesses in the UK and worldwide to improve your global awareness.

Our approach on the programme is to constantly apply theory to practice – so you will be able to immediately apply your learning in the real world and make a lasting impact on your industry.

Why study the Birmingham International Business MBA?

Expand your understanding of international business – develop strategic and management skills by exploring business theory and practice

International management challenge – your global placement accelerates your understanding of international business by giving you management responsibilities in a competitive and unfamiliar market

Access the latest research – as a research-led business school, we give our students access to the latest trends, data and knowledge across global business

A life-time of career coaching – from the moment you join us you will have a mentor and career coach available to guide you through the many opportunities open to you in international business

Accredited business school – we hold the gold standard of 'triple-crown' accreditation from the AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business), AMBA (Association of MBAs) and EQUIS (European Quality Improvement System).

The heart of British Industry

Birmingham is the home of big British business. Forming the business hub for Britain at the height of the industrial revolution, Birmingham City has continued to host great companies and organisations. It is this commercial mentality that has helped the business school thrive in our city.

Students take twelve modules and submit a 10,000 word project. The modules available to view below are for the full-time MBA International Business programme. Those taking the Global Banking and Finance programme take the core MBA modules plus other specialist modules for their particular programme.

An enhanced MBA experience

MBA students have the opportunity to gain an insight into how high profile business leaders made it to the top and discover what makes a great leader through our Distinguished Leaders Series.

Select students also have the opportunity to be part of a more intimate round-table discussion with the distinguished leaders, to ask individual questions and explore their career and the theme of leadership in more detail.

The Distinguished Leaders Series showcases the high profile business leaders that come to speak at Birmingham Business School.

Why study this course

- Core taught elements in functional business disciplines. As a research-led School, the latest thinking and techniques can be rapidly incorporated and teaching kept at the cutting edge
- Classes and seminars supplement lectures, where fuller analysis and discussion takes place and important business skills, such as analysis, argument and synthesis, can be developed
- Case studies are used as a means of relating theory to practical situations and students will often work in small groups with other students on assignments designed to develop problem solving and interpersonal skills
- A series of industrial seminars, given by outside speakers from industry and commerce, provides contemporary 'real world' perspectives on the business environment – recent visitors to the School have included Mervyn King, Governor of the Bank of England (and a former professor of the University of Birmingham) and Sir John Bond, Chairman of HSBC Holdings
- A residential weekend business simulation requires you to manage a 'company' team in competition with others, against tight deadlines and with a range of rapidly changing data to assimilate and act upon (Full-time only)
- A Teamwork Skills course at an outdoor pursuits centre in the Malvern Hills develops skills in leadership, team building and team working (Full-time only)
- Cross-Cultural Management skills are developed in a variety of workshops and Issues in Global Competitiveness are the focus of a specialist series of seminars
- Researching and writing a project develops skills in information gathering, analysis and report writing
- A supporting programme of consultant delivered career-development workshops allow you to reflect on the impact of what you have learnt on your future career development
