

Café Masters

A social opportunity to discover, discuss and learn more about postgraduate study

Are you interested in studying for a Masters degree at Birmingham?

Would you like to find out more about the value of postgraduate study?

Do you want to discuss further study with current and recent Masters students?

.... If so, then Café Masters can help.

Café Masters events offer a mixture of general and School-specific sessions to help you learn more about the experience of studying for a Masters degree at the University of Birmingham.

These are informal sessions on opportunities for you to find out what Masters study is all about and the directions in which a Birmingham Masters degree might take you.

Café Masters - EU and Study Abroad students especially welcome

We will be running a general Café Masters event on Thursday 1 May. The event is open to all students interested in studying for a Masters, but there will be a particular focus on EU students and students currently on study abroad programmes at Birmingham who might like to return for a postgraduate degree.

The event will help you find out more about what it's like to study for a Masters degree, the options that are available for you at Birmingham and whether a postgraduate degree could be your next step.

Come along to hear a panel of current postgraduate students share their experiences, to ask any questions you have about postgraduate study, and to discuss your next steps with current postgraduate students and/or with a member of the Postgraduate Recruitment Team.

All students are welcome... free refreshments will be provided!
