

Research in American and Canadian Studies

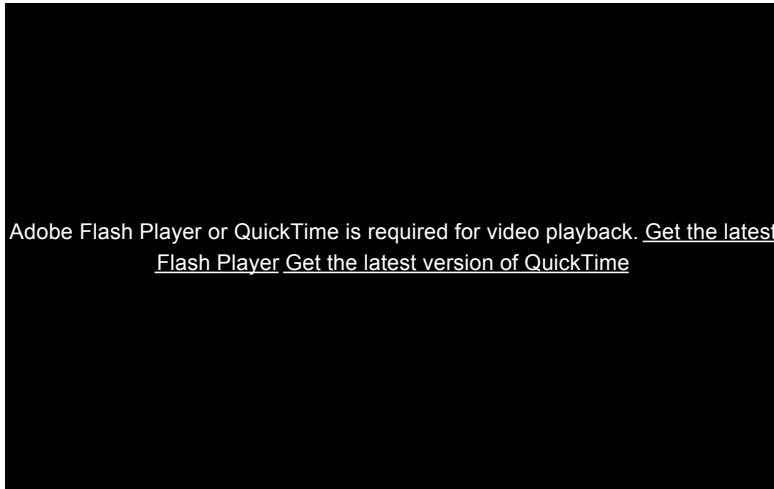

Our centre is one of the most dynamic in Britain. Our staff are at the forefront of research in American and Canadian Studies. Our multi-disciplinary approach links history, literature, politics and cultural studies to produce innovative and challenging work.

- Postgraduate research \(/research/activity/acs/research/postgraduateresearch/index.aspx\)
- Staff research videos \(/research/activity/acs/research/videos/index.aspx\)
- Research seminars \(/research/activity/acs/research/seminars/index.aspx\)

Research projects

- Beyond The Book: Mass Reading Events and Contemporary Cultures of Reading in the UK, USA and Canada \(/research/activity/acs/research/beyondthebook.aspx\)
- EWorldView: engaging with the notion of "America" through a consideration of US foreign policy and politics \(http://www.enduringamerica.com/\)
- 49th Parallel E-Journal: An Interdisciplinary Journal of North American Studies \(/research/activity/acs/research/49thparallel.aspx\)
- City Sites - an electronic book \(/research/activity/acs/research/citysites.aspx\)

PhD student John Horne talks about his research into representations of dying in contemporary visual culture.

Adobe Flash Player or QuickTime is required for video playback. Get the latest Flash Player Get the latest version of QuickTime