

CLAVIER Conference in Modena, Italy

Posted on Thursday 11th August 2011

An international conference on 'Tracking Language Change in Specialised and Professional Genres', hosted by the CLAVIER Group, will take place in Modena on 24-26 November 2011, and Paul Thompson is an invited speaker in a roundtable discussion at the conference. There will also be a PhD student workshop the day before the conference and several Birmingham corpus linguistics research students have received studentships to attend the workshop and conference.
