Birmingham has most to lose in Gove-May extremism row \(/schools/social-policy/departments/applied-social-studies/news-and-events/2014/06/birmingham-has-most-to-lose-in-gove-may-extremism-row.aspx\)

Allegations of an "Islamist" plot to infiltrate and take over schools in Birmingham at the centre of Operation Trojan Horse are looking increasingly thin. But they have caused a very public row between education secretary Michael Gove and home secretary Theresa May over how to deal with extremism in schools, Dr Chris Allen writes in today's 'Conversation'.
