Are you a Chemical Engineer who wants to inspire young people? We're looking for Chemical Engineers (especially female) to help motivate Year 10 & 11 girls into considering a career in Chemical Engineering. The girls are all high ability learners, but given the challenging backgrounds the pupils are from, they might never consider a career in engineering/chemical industry. Ambassadors are required to promote the career paths and options available to pupils in the engineering industry.

You will be required to do a presentation that describes your route into engineering and your current role, and if possible, lead some practical, interactive activities related to your role.
