

Professor Andy Lymer promotion

Posted on Friday 29th June 2012

Congratulations to Prof. Andrew Lymer – Head of our Department (Accounting and Finance) who has recently been promoted into the interim position of Head of Birmingham Business School.

Prof. Lymer has been in post since April 2nd; the term runs until October when the School will have a permanent Director in place. Professor Lymer has now met with both the VC and Head of College and they were both of the view that with the active support of Senior Management Team members and colleagues across the School; Prof. Lymer has the personal skills, energy and commitment to undertake this role successfully.

We wish Prof Lymer every success in his new role and look forward to welcoming him back into the Accounting and Finance department in October.
