Birmingham Business School Academic visits Brazil to promote sustainable development in the Amazon. Brazil is not only about the World Cup, or even the next Olympics, it is also an arena to discuss the future of a sustainable Amazon. Dr Pamela Robinson recently visited Brazil to engage and debate with a number of interested parties that are focused on promoting sustainable development in the Amazon. Read about Pam's time in the Amazon \(/schools/business/departments/management/news/2013/october/sustainable-development-in-the-amazon.aspx\).

EU Researchers' Night 'Brum Dine with Me' - Going Bananas, September 2012. Supported by the European Union, the chief aim of the event was to demonstrate how international companies (producers and supermarkets) think in terms of the food they sell, in respect of public health, the development of a responsible approach to sourcing product and the importance of fair trade. The event brought together researchers with Birmingham Wholesale Market and Fyffes Bananas, the world's largest exporter and wholesaler of bananas.

ESRC Festival of Social Sciences Week 'Ethical Dilemmas' Event, November 2011. The chief aim of which was to raise awareness of ethical issues in business and society and facilitate debate in terms of resolving such problems. The activity was conducted in the style of the BBC Question Time programme and a panel of representatives from business, local government and civil society responded to questions asked by high school and undergraduate students.

University of Birmingham - North American Travel Fund, 2010. The chief aim of which is to collaborate on a joint research study with Professor Chris Tilly, UCLA.

Cardiff University International Collaboration Award (early-researchers), 2009. The chief aims of the visit are to disseminate doctoral research and to develop on-going research projects with the Javeriana University in Bogotá, Colombia.
