

Distinguished Leaders series

Posted on Tuesday 18th September 2012

Birmingham Business School Alumni Relations team is delighted to announce the launch of the Distinguished Leaders series.

Working with our MBA programme, we have secured internationally successful business leaders from industries ranging from energy to sports entertainment to share their leadership journey with current students and alumni currently working in industry.

In the first series of its kind, Business School students and alumni will be given the opportunity to ask leaders of global organisations what it takes to become a great leader and how to look out for, and overcome, the challenges to success.

The series will feature Tony Hayward (former Chief Executive of BP), Mike Coupe (Group Commercial Director of Sainsbury's) and Andrew Higginson (Chairman of Tesco Bank) to name a few.

For full details on the series please visit: Distinguished leaders series