Posted on Friday 26th July 2013

The latest Alumni Ambassador has been added to the Birmingham Business School's International Collaboration and Alumni maps. Rashid Mohiuddin completed the Birmingham Business School Global MBA in Singapore \(/postgraduate/courses/taught/business/singapore-mba.aspx\) and is now a part of the Alumni Ambassador program. This allows direct connection to Rashid, as well as other MBA Alumni across the world, so others can find out about his time studying a Birmingham Business School programme whilst living in Singapore.

When asked why he chose the University of Birmingham, Rashid said:

“ One of the key considerations was the reputation and ranking of school. Also, the modular structure of the Global-MBA programme was a major plus point, as it allows the working professional to better manage their time between work and study. The programme fee is also reasonable. It gives the MBA an attractive position on quality-cost graph.

Our Alumni Ambassadors map gives prospective and current students the opportunity to learn more about life at Birmingham Business School by reading about and talking directly to those who have experienced it for themselves. By connecting directly with our Alumni Ambassadors, first-hand experience can be gained of all that the Business School has to offer.
