

Latest 'Birmingham Business School Discussion Paper Series' papers available

Posted on Tuesday 10th September 2013

The latest entries in the 'Birmingham Business School Discussion Paper Series' are now available to view online. Papers are submitted from academics across all departments of the Business School, covering a wide range of research topics.

- "Demystifying cultural intermediaries: Who are they, what do they do and where can they be found in England? (<http://epapers.bham.ac.uk/1768/>)"
Author: Lisa De Propriis and Samuel Mwaura
- "Neuroscience and Reductionism: Some Realist Reflections (<http://epapers.bham.ac.uk/1769/>)"
Author: Paul Edwards
- "Decision Mode, Information and Network Attachment in the Internationalization of SMEs: A Configurational and Contingency Analysis (<http://epapers.bham.ac.uk/1770/>)"
Author: John Child, Linda H.Y. Hsieh
- "The Role of Context in the Globalization of Chinese Firms (<http://epapers.bham.ac.uk/1771/>)"
Author: John Child and Svetla Marinova
- "The embedded nature of the retirement experience: a life course study (<http://epapers.bham.ac.uk/1803/>)"
Author: Holly Birkett

View more papers and downloadable research podcasts at Birmingham Business School Discussion Paper Series \(/schools/business/research/birmingham-business-school-discussion-paper-series.aspx\).