

Personal development

The College of Arts and Law offers all our postgraduate students opportunities to gain and enhance skills, alongside your studies, to aid your personal and professional development.

Employability skills

The College has an excellent employability record and the Graduate School offers employability skills training in order to enhance your prospects post-qualification.

- Read more about employability in the College of Arts and Law \(/schools/calgs/personal-development/employability.aspx\)

Language training

We now offer all of our postgraduate students the opportunity to develop their language skills, either for personal development or to support their research, via our Languages for All and Graduate Languages programmes. Both schemes are completely free of charge to students in the College of Arts and Law.

- Read more about language training \(/schools/calgs/personal-development/languages.aspx\)