About

Gary Thomas took up the post of chair in education at Birmingham in 2005. Before university teaching, he worked as a teacher and as an educational psychologist. In higher education – at the University of Leeds, at Oxford Brookes University, UWE and University College London – his teaching and research have focused on inclusion, special education, and research methodology in education.

Gary has received awards from the AHRC, the ESRC, the Nuffield Foundation, the Leverhulme Trust, the DfE, Barnardos, the Cadmean Trust, local authorities and a range of other organisations. Most of his funded research has been on inclusive or special education, though his Leverhulme Research Fellowship was awarded to examine the role of theory in education.

Gary Thomas has recently led an ESRC thematic seminar competition in the Teaching and Learning Research Programme on the assessment of quality in educational research.

He was the founding co-editor of the International Journal of Research and Method in Education (<http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/titles/1743727x.asp>) and he has been a co-editor of the British Educational Research Journal (<http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/carfax/01411926.html>).
