

Research

The department undertakes a wide range of research from the medieval to the modern. Graded 5 in the most recent RAE assessments, Birmingham is one of the country's leading departments, with an excellent record of high-powered research of international standing.

- Research projects \(/schools/historycultures/departments/history/research/projects/index.aspx\)
- Doctoral student research \(/schools/historycultures/departments/history/research/postgraduateresearch/profiles/index.aspx\)
- Research centres \(/schools/historycultures/departments/history/research/research-centres.aspx\)
- Research seminars \(/schools/historycultures/departments/history/research/seminars/index.aspx\)

Research in focus

Sadiah Qureshi: Recovering the past to improve humanity's future

Adobe Flash Player or QuickTime is required for video playback. Get the latest Flash Player Get the latest version of QuickTime