

Research Handbook on the Theory and History of International Law

Posted on Thursday 21st July 2011

Birmingham lecturer Dr Alexander Orakhelashvili is the editor, and one of the featured authors, of the new Research Handbook On The Theory And History Of International Law, published by Edward Elgar Publishing this month.

The first comprehensive analysis of theory and history of international law, with contributions from renowned experts including Birmingham Law School's own Professor Rob Cryer (</staff/profiles/law/cryer-robert.aspx>), provides a comprehensive scholarly framework for analyzing the theory and history of international law.
