

Research seminars

We hold regular research seminars in which Hispanic Studies staff and postgraduates and staff and students from other sections of the University participate. These seminars, usually held on Wednesdays, are open to all, and contribute to the vibrant research environment we enjoy.

For more information please contact Dr Conrad James \(/staff/profiles/hispanic/james-conrad.aspx\).

From pride to humiliation: an Oral History project in Hialeah \(/schools/lcahm/departments/hispanic/events/2015/panichelli-batalla-seminar.aspx\)

11/02/2015

Dr Stéphanie Panichelli-Batalla (Aston University) delivers this Hispanic Studies research seminar.

Title to be confirmed \(/schools/lcahm/departments/hispanic/events/2015/sarah-wright-seminar.aspx\)

11/03/2015

Dr Sarah Wright (Royal Holloway) delivers this Hispanic Studies research seminar.

Spain and Portugal in the early seventeenth century: a Viceroy's viewpoint \(/schools/lcahm/departments/hispanic/events/2015/henry-thomas-lecture-2015.aspx\)

19/03/2015

Professor Trevor Dadson (Queen Mary, University of London) delivers the Sir Henry Thomas Lecture 2015.

Displaying 1 to 3 of 3