

EU Translator to visit Birmingham

Posted on Wednesday 10th October 2012

Karolina Stefaniak, translator and terminologist at the European Commission's Directorate-General for Translation, will spend a month at the University during autumn 2012 under the European Commission's Visiting Translator Scheme (VTS).

Ms Stefaniak will chiefly be involved in the MA in Translation Studies \(/postgraduate/courses/taught/arts-law-inter/translation-studies.aspx\), teaching classes to MA students and giving them one-to-one careers advice. She will give two more general talks about the work of the EU, which everyone is welcome to attend:

- Multilingualism in the EU
Thursday 8 November 2012
14:00-15:00
Arts Building 201
- Translating for the EU
Thursday 22 November 2012
14:00-15:00
Learning Centre UG06