

Metallurgy and Materials at Birmingham ranks high in Guardian league tables

Posted on Thursday 24th November 2011

Metallurgy and Materials at the University of Birmingham has been ranked third in the UK - behind only Oxford and Imperial College - in the Guardian's 2012 university league table. Student satisfaction, however, is better than either at 92%.

See the Guardian league table for Materials and Mineral \(http://www.guardian.co.uk/education/table/2011/may/17/university-guide-engineering-materials-mineral-\)