

Professor Yvonne Elsworth awarded IoP Payne-Gaposchkin prize

Posted on Tuesday 2nd August 2011

I am delighted to announce that Professor Yvonne Elsworth has been awarded the Institute of Physics 2011 Payne-Gaposchkin Medal and Prize. This is a fantastic achievement (hot on the heels of Professor Martin Freer's award last year) and the School send Yvonne our warmest congratulations for this well-deserved award.

Further details and citation may be seen on the IoP website (http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/payne_gaposchkin-/medallists/page_51323.html).

Andy Schofield
Professor of Theoretical Physics
Head of School, Physics and Astronomy