

Nayilah AL-Qahtani

School of Psychology \(/schools/psychology/index.aspx\)

Contact details

Email nma281@bham.ac.uk (<mailto:nma281@bham.ac.uk>)

About

Title of PhD: The role of morphological structure during word reading in Arabic/English bilinguals

Supervisors: Dr Linda Wheeldon \(/staff/profiles/psychology/wheeldon-linda.aspx\), Dr Steven Frisson \(/staff/profiles/psychology/frisson-steven.aspx\)

Nayilah AL-Qahtani's field is psycholinguistics. She is interested in Morphology in bilingual people.

Qualifications

April 2016 - PhD in Psycholinguistics. The role of morphological structure during word reading in Arabic/English bilinguals.

January 2013 - MSc in Cognitive Neuroscience of psychology. Title: Cross – cultural spatial biases in thinking: A comparison between native English and Arabic Speakers. University of Sussex.

August, 2007 - MSc. Stage theory of the Master's degree in the Guidance of Psychology. Imam Mohammed bin Saud University.

April, 2003 - Bsc in Clinical Psychology (Distinction). King Saud University

Biography

Imam Mohammed bin Saud University - School of Psychology Lecturer to undergraduate students (Physiology, Educational psychology and social psychology)

Research

Research interests

Bilingual people and Morphology.