

Time and Modality Workshop

Posted on Wednesday 24th October 2012

The Philosophy department hosted a highly successful one-day workshop on Time and Modality on Monday Sep 10th in the ERI building. This event was organized by Alastair Wilson and Nikk Effingham. It was well attended by both our own staff and graduate students and also by visiting staff and students from Oxford, Bristol, Nottingham, Leeds and Barcelona. At the workshop, we had four great talks from Cian Dorr, Jessica Leech, Jonathan Tallant and Alexander Bird. The aim of this workshop was to begin new research collaboration in these areas between Birmingham and nearby universities.
