

New MA in International Law, Ethics and Politics

Posted on Friday 25th January 2013

The Philosophy Department has launched a new interdisciplinary MA course for entry in September 2013. The new MA in International Law, Ethics and Politics (<http://www.birmingham.ac.uk/students/courses/postgraduate/taught/phil/international-law-ethics-politics.aspx>) offers a broad range of modules from across the University's philosophy, law and politics departments and is equally relevant to humanities, social sciences or law undergraduates.

As well as a flexible choice of modules, the course also offers students the opportunity to undertake a traditional 15,000-word dissertation, or a practice-based dissertation.

The course is available full-time over one year, or part-time over two years.

For further information about the course, please contact Dr Iain Law at i.law@bham.ac.uk (<mailto:i.law@bham.ac.uk>).