

Cadbury Lectures 2011 - School of Philosophy Theology and Religion

Posted on Tuesday 24th May 2011

The Cadbury Lectures are annual and prestigious public lectures that this year were held on 21-25 March in the lecture theatre (G52) in the ERI Building. David Urquhart and Bernard Longley, the Anglican and Roman Catholic bishops of Birmingham, jointly gave five lectures on the theme of Parables for the City. The Chancellor and Vice Chancellor were among those chairing the sessions.

View programme, event report and listen to the podcasts of the lectures \(/schools/ptr/departments/theologyandreligion/news/2011/cadburylecturesreport.aspx\)