

Leadership and Management Seminar Series

Leading Social Work Practice

Hosted by the Public Service Academy, and led by leading academics with a wide experience in policy and practice, these seminars are targeted at leaders and managers in all areas of the social work profession. Seminars will also be of interest to academics, health and social care professionals and postgraduate students.

Previous Seminars

2013/14

- Mindfulness for Social Work Managers
- Care Full Management

2012/13

- Ethical Leadership for Social Work Practice
- Why Social Work Managers need to think like designers - and how to do it
- Supervising and Managing Professionals

Participants' comments:

“ The seminar provided me with much 'food for thought' as how the task of supervising and managing professional staff needs to be completed in a way that evidences what is required more effectively.”

“ This was a useful and stimulating seminar, and I intend to incorporate the knowledge into my supervision.”

“ I very much enjoyed the seminar and in my position as manager within an IFA I am able to implement some of the strategies that Sharon suggested such as reflective supervision.”