

Video: Dr Judith Smith, PhD Health Policy and Management

PhD Health Policy and Management

I think first and foremost it was an opportunity to bring together the different strands of experience that I had had and research that I had undertaken during my career. I was able to bring together my interests in health services research, but also together with health care management which was my original profession and also, interestingly, drew on my experience of my first degree which was also at Birmingham University, which was in French Language and Literature."

Adobe Flash Player or QuickTime is required for video playback. Get the latest Flash Player Get the latest version of QuickTime

Read Judith Smith's contribution to the 'Faces and Memories' (/schools/social-policy/departments/health-services-management-centre/events/fortieth-celebrations/smith-judith.aspx) as part of her contribution to HSMC's 40th anniversary celebrations in 2012.

