

A co-operative approach to social care

Locations	Health Services Management Centre, Park House, University of Birmingham
Date(s)	Thursday 30th June 2011 (09:15-16:30)
Contact	Ann Thomas Events Coordinator Health Services Management Centre Park House 40 Edgbaston Park Road Birmingham, B15 2RT
Download	Add to Calendar (/schools/social-policy/departments/health-services-management-centre/events/cooperative-approach-social-care.aspx?ical=true)

This event will increase people's awareness and understanding of co-operative models in social care and will provide an opportunity to reflect and discuss these with presenters and other attendees. The event will cover both the 'principles' of co-operative organisational models and how these have been 'practically' applied in social care settings. Presenters include leading representatives from the co-operative movement, the Cabinet Office and the Department of Health and also people who have developed successful co-operatives delivering a range of social care services, including foster care, home care and advocacy.

Event flyer which gives further information, programme, booking form and payment details \(pdf; 128KB; opens in new window\) \(/Documents/college-social-sciences/social-policy/HSMC/news-events/co-operative-approach-social-care-june2011.pdf\)