

Join the debate on Special Needs White Paper

Posted on Monday 14th March 2011

Robin Miller (<http://www.hsmc.bham.ac.uk/staff/miller.shtml>), Senior Fellow at the Health Services Management Centre (HSMC), is one of the contributors to this week's Birmingham Debate (<http://www.birmingham.ac.uk/research/impact/debate/sen.aspx>), along with Christopher Robertson (http://www.education.bham.ac.uk/staff/robertson_christopher.shtml), a Lecturer in Inclusive and Special Education from the School of Education.

Responding to the new Government White Paper on Special Needs, the debate discussed the pro's and con's of personal budgets for children and young people with special educational needs.

Should personalised budgets be introduced for children and young people with special educational needs? \(/research/impact/perspective/debate/sen.aspx\)

Read the arguments and cast your vote.