

HSMC Professor gives keynote speech in Oslo

Posted on Monday 10th June 2013

On 12 June Professor Russell Mannion will give an invited keynote address at a seminar organised by the Norwegian national Knowledge Centre, Oslo, entitled: Hospital governance of quality and safety: lessons from the English NHS. He will also reply to the speech at the seminar by the National Chief Medical Officer for Norway, Professor Bjørn Guldvog.

Russell holds a five year appointment as Visiting Professor in the Faculty of Medicine, University of Oslo and during his time in Oslo will be involved in a research project assessing the development of integrated care services in Norway as well developing collaborative research on health care quality and patient safety with colleagues in Oslo.