

HSMC welcomes public health trainee for 12 months

Posted on Monday 5th August 2013

Dr Kate Warren will be joining the Health Services Management Centre for a year, as part of her training to become a Consultant in Public Health Medicine. She did her medical training and Masters in Public Health here at the University of Birmingham and has worked across Birmingham and the Black Country on areas such as cancer screening, obesity, migrant health, communicable diseases, and assets-based approaches to health improvement. Kate will be supervised by Hilary Brown (</staff/profiles/social-policy/brown-hilary.aspx>), and will be contributing to a number of research and consultancy projects, as well as teaching on the Patient and User Involvement module.
