Academics in the School of Social Policy have been awarded funding for three new research projects.

Evaluation of North Yorkshire CBL (2011-2012)

David Mullins is leading this project to evaluate the impact of a regional choice based lettings scheme in the predominantly rural county of North Yorkshire. Find out more... \(/schools/social-policy/research/projects/2012/evaluation-north-yorkshire-cbl.aspx\)

Third Sector partnerships for service delivery (2011-2012)

David Mullins is also leading this project which will explore the impact of policy changes under devolved government on the shape of the third sector in housing and the changing nature and form of partnerships resulting, in Northern Ireland. Find out more... \(/schools/social-policy/departments/applied-social-studies/research/projects/2012/third-sector-partnerships.aspx\)

Making the case in safeguarding: Enhancing safe practice at the interface between hospital services and children's social care (2012-2013)

Sue White will be leading this research, the aim of which is to develop a tool-kit to help foster a safeguarding culture within the hospital environment that will detect children at risk of abuse. Find out more... \(/schools/social-policy/departments/applied-social-studies/research/projects/2012/making-the-case-in-safeguarding.aspx\)
