

School ranks in top three of uni guide 2013

Posted on Friday 25th May 2012

In the Guardian University guide 2013 the School of Sport and Exercise Sciences is ranked in the top three for sport sciences universities.

The school gains an excellent overall score of 95.7% which is derived from factors such as:

- Satisfaction with course
- Satisfaction with teaching
- Satisfaction with feedback
- Student:staff ratio
- Spend per student
- The percentage of graduates who find graduate-level jobs, or are studying further, within six months of graduation

See the league table on the Guardian website here \(http://www.guardian.co.uk/education/table/2012/may/22/university-guide-sports-science\).