About

Victoria is a Lecturer in Operations Management. She has previously worked at The University of Melbourne (Australia), University of Canterbury (New Zealand) and Rolls-Royce Plc. Victoria has taught project management, operations management and technology management at undergraduate and master's level and researches in the fields of small business networking and supply chain performance.

Qualifications

- Ph.D. Loughborough
- B.Eng. (Hons) Sheffield

Biography

Victoria studied for her undergraduate degree in Chemical Engineering and Biotechnology at the University of Sheffield and gained a PhD in Manufacturing Engineering from Loughborough University. Her early career involved working at Rolls-Royce Plc in Supply Chain Management and she continues to work very closely with industry, researching and publishing in the areas of supply chain management, small firm networking and business performance. More recently she has looked at applying fundamental operations management principles in non-traditional settings such as healthcare organizations and not-for-profit groups. Victoria is a reviewer for a number of journals including International Journal of Operations and Production Management, International Small Business Journal, International Journal of Management Reviews and the British Journal of Management.

Teaching

Current Teaching

- BSc Module in Project Management
- BSc Module in Operations Management
- GDBA Module Operations Management

Postgraduate supervision

Victoria is interested in supervising PhDs in the field of Operations and Supply Chain Management. Her preference is for PhD students who use qualitative research methods and who take a critical and reflective perspective.

Research

- Operations and Supply Chain Performance, particularly relating to local West Midlands organizations.
- Small Firm Networking and Collaboration
- Operations Management Principles Applied in Non-Traditional Settings such as Healthcare and Not-for-Profit Organisations

Other activities

Post-Doctoral Tutor and Co-ordinator: April 2014 Onwards

Year 1 Tutor: September 2012 April 2014

Welfare Tutor: April 2012-September 2012
