About

Andrew Dick is Chief Executive of Envision, the national youth empowerment charity. Before joining Envision in March 2010, Andrew spent six years at TimeBank, the national volunteering charity, where he played a key role in establishing a number of innovative volunteering programmes. These included 'Time Together', a £3.6m nationwide refugee mentoring scheme, and 'Volunteer to Win', a volunteer recruitment campaign that was part of the London bid for the 2012 Olympic Games. Andrew's past experience also includes time at the Confederation of British Industry as a Senior Policy Advisor on Sustainable Development and Corporate Social Responsibility.

Andrew was a commissioner until April 2011.
