

Academic Skills Centre (ASC)

(<https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/libraryservices/asc/academicwritingskillssupport.aspx>) The University Academic Skills Centre (<https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/libraryservices/asc/index.aspx>), located in the University's Main Library, supports all new undergraduate students to develop their mathematical (<https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/libraryservices/asc/mathematicalsupport.aspx>), academic writing and general academic skills (<https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/libraryservices/asc/academicwritingskillssupport.aspx>).

The Centre provides drop-in support sessions to help students to become better prepared for the mathematical components of their studies; plus sessions to help students improve their general academic skills and writing.

In addition to the drop-in support sessions the Centre has a comprehensive general academic skills and writing workshop programme.

To contact the Centre email: asc@contacts.bham.ac.uk (<mailto:asc@contacts.bham.ac.uk>).

Supporting your transition to university

The transition to a new way of learning can be a challenge. To help you prepare for the differences of studying at undergraduate level we have the following interactive resources.

Preparing for learning: Why wait?

Do you want to begin to work on developing the academic skills you will need to be successful on your course?

Before you've even registered you can try a taster of our interactive skills4study Campus study skills resources on 'Preparing for Academic Study'

Get ahead by visiting:

Getting to grips with your studies

Get to grips with what it is like to study at a university such as Birmingham with our interactive study skills materials site: www.skills4uni.bham.ac.uk (<http://www.skills4uni.bham.ac.uk/>).

Mathematics and statistics resources

Mathematics and statistics are relevant to many discipline areas; however, many students experience difficulties with these subjects as they begin their university studies. The Centre will be a place where students from all disciplines can receive additional help (<https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/libraryservices/asc/mathematicalsupport.aspx>) with the mathematical and statistical content of their courses.

Additionally, there are a range of mathematics and statistics resources freely available online that might help with your transition to university:
